Re: Riley v. Taylor, et al.,
C.A. No. 06-001-GMS
(Subj.: Failure to provide Riley Copy of sealed medical Records)

Dear Mr. Connors,

In Response to plaintiff's motion for production of documents of October 15, 2007, you also filed therewith "medical Records under seal". However you failed to serve a copy of those sealed medical records upon the plaintiff.

Please be advised that the prison official-defendants are responsible to provide prisoners with adequate medical care. The Department of Corrections (DOC) in turn contracted the Correctional Medical Services (CMS) to fulfill its constitutional obligation. But since DOC's responsibility to provide medical care is non-delegatable, thus CMS' breaches in contract are shared with the prison official-defendants herein who rely on CMS.

Therefore, All defendants are obligated to provide plaintiff copies of the sealed medical records filed in the district court by Mr. Connors.

Thank You!
James Riley
